Bethel Man on U. N. Assignment in India

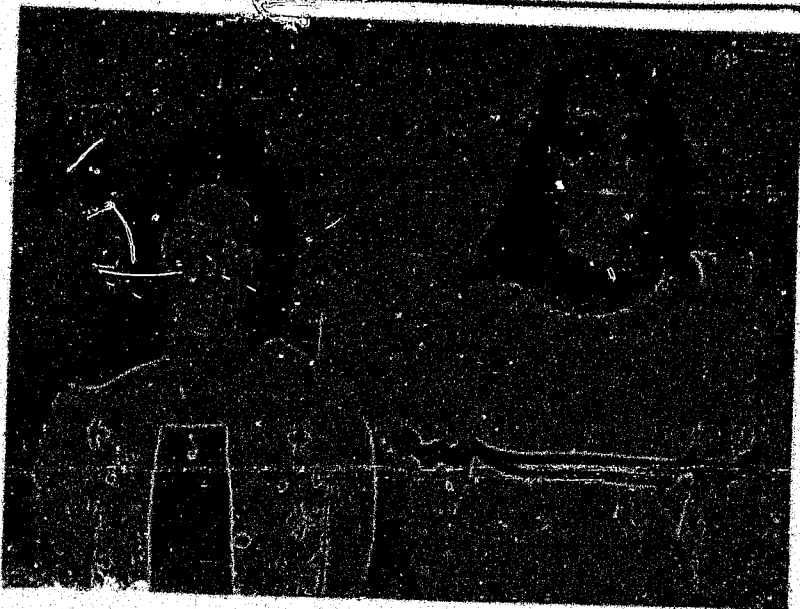

Dr. John J. Willard, Jr., Chemical and Textile Consultant of Bethel, has been awarded a position as Senior Research Consultant by the Industrial Development Organization of the United Nations. Willard will be responsible for directing an expanded research program at the Ahmedabad Textile Industries Research Association in Ahmedabad, India. A tour of duty of three months has just begun, and another four months is required in the three year assignment in late 1976. The United Nations is assisting the Indian Government in expanding the textile research capabilities of this Institute which employs more than 250 persons.

Dr. John J. Willard, Jr.

Willard is a member of The Fiber Society, The Chemists' Club (New York), American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists, and is Chairman-Elect of the Cellulose, Paper and Textile Division of American Chemical Society.

MORE QUEEN CANDIDATES

It was announced this week that two more girls have joined the race for Queen of the annual Bethel Winter Carnival which will take place Feb. 14 through 22. The two new candidates, pictured above, are Miss Deidra Sullivan, left, Gould Academy student, and Miss Elaine Cross, who attends Telstar Regional High School.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Monday night the volunteers of the ambulance service indicated they would attempt to amend the article in the Special Town Meeting Warrant to be voted on tonight (Thursday) such as to instruct the Selectmen to not request bids for a vehicle. Their reasons being availability of a vehicle and the time element involved.

If such an action is taken it must be realized we may be sacrificing a possible $5000 grant from the Federal Government plus up to $1000 for a radio. Some that have purchased ambulances have not requested these funds due to the regulations attached. Every attempt will be made to procure these funds under whatever conditions the vehicle is purchased.

The Budget Committee will meet both Wednesday and Thursday nights next week as they have devoted so much time to budget this year, they will not be able to complete their work meeting one night a week.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING TONIGHT (THURSDAY)

Meanwhile in Bethel, Sandy Caton and her committee will serve an old fashioned church supper at 6 p. m. at the Congregational Church.

At 7:30 p. m. after the supper the public is invited to attend "Red House Circus", a professional musical group that will be entertained on Page Eight ELECTED POTENTATE—John W. Trinward, D.M.D., Bethel was elected potentate of Kora Temple, AAONMS, Friday evening, Jan. 17, at the 1975 annual meeting in Lewiston.

MEETING OF S. A. D. 44 BOARD HELD AT ANDOVER MONDAY

The S. A. D. 44 board met at the Andover Elementary School on Monday evening of this week for a regular meeting.

Supt. Basil E. Kinney discussed with the board and the Andover board of selectmen, George Chase, Charles Cutting and Harold Falkenham, the possible postponement of the annual District budget meeting from its customary third week in February date. A delay might be desirable in case possible action by the current Maine legislature makes changes in state fund allocation for the 1976 fiscal year. As the town's share of the FY76 budget could be ascertained by formula before the community's 1975 meeting, the selectmen had no objection at that time, to a reasonable postponement of the District session. The S. A. D. 44 board plans to make inquiry at a future session of the boards of selectmen

There were 14 present: Nancy Mason, Alicia Stevens, Bernice Davis, Carol Stowell, Lois Abbott, Marta Clements, Elaine Wilday, Patricia Thurlow, Mary Fleming, Joyce Wilbur, Mina Morgan, Barbara Cash, a new member Barbara Scott and the hostess Sheryl Wilbur. Olive Davis was asked to report on her Pomona Lecturer's book with which she had won and had been presented the Pomona Honor Lecturers Sash at State Grange last October. She also won a performance award for Subordinate Grange and one for Pomona for the year 1974.

Mrs. Addie Campbell returned home from the C. M. G. Hospital last Wednesday.

Mrs. Ellis Davis called on Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barnett on Hill St., South Paris Thursday. She found Ruth Barnett entertaining a terrific cold and felt rather mean. We surely hope she is much better at this time.

Snow did you say? A dusting of snow was reported from Channel 6 on TV! We had around 6 or 7 inches from this light? snow storm. Another one is promised for tomorrow. What will that be? Probably just the opposite what ever Channel 6 reports again.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant called on Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Davis Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Hazel Johnson has gone to her daughter's, Mrs. Sylvia Grover's at Watford for two weeks.

Jim Mason Jr. and sister Jean, went to Brunswick with friends for the week end. Jim Mason Jr., stopped at Lost Valley coming home Sunday and did a little skiing.

Mrs. Goldie Mason and four friends are taking a course in nursing at Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morgan attended church at Norridgewock Saturday. They visited a friend, George Perry in the afternoon. They were stranded by the snow storm, so remained all night.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church School under Craig Morgan's direction are taking field trips on Fridays. Two weeks ago the school went to South Paris Post Office to see how the mail was taken care of and this Friday they were at Goodwin's at South Paris watching the making of ice cream.

A sliding party is being planned for Sunday, the 26th by the Adventist Church. It will be held in the fields back of Carl Cash's trailer.

Cub Scout News

On Sunday, Jan. 19, about 100 people attended the annual Cub Scout sliding party, held this year, on the slick Gould Academy Hill near Lover's Lane. Better than six inches of snow the night before made conditions excellent. Temperatures were in the 40's as opposed to below 0 the day before and the day after, indicating complete cooperation from Mother Nature.

Cub Scout Treasurer, Bill Cousins, donned his snowshoes and directed traffic on the slopes. Bill reported only 386 major accidents occurred with no injuries. Jim Hudson and Don Barker were recognized as the worst drivers of the day, with Cub Master, Al Barth achieving notoriety for being involved in the most accidents. Mike Kelly and Andy Wheeler were recognized as being consistently the most out of control, while Eric Johnson apparently set the record for the longest distance. Bobby Fisk was the first to arrive on the slope and Karl Barth achieved notoriety as the last to arrive. Eddie Greenleaf accomplished the longest backward run, while Larry Hudson consistently achieved the best snowplow effect. Honors also went to Willy Rice for the biggest freestyle. The highlight of the day was watching Den Mothers, Ginny Johnson, Wendy Rice and Maryvonne Wheeler, career down the course with repeated spectacular performances. Delicious hot chocolate was served by Burnie Rice. All seemed to have a good time, staying until almost sunset, bearing wet clothing, physical exhaustion and pleasant memories.

Cub Scout Pack Meeting for the month of January will be held at the Bethel Savings Bank on Tuesday, Jan. 28 from 7 - 8 p. m.

GAUDREAU SPARKS REBEL FROSH TO WIN AT MEXICO

Geff Gaudreau shot a hot 78% from the floor to lead the Telstar Freshmen to a 64-56 win over the Mexico Frosh last Thursday. The win completed a sweep by Telstar, who nipped Mexico 57-52 in the opener of the season. Down by two at the quarter and again at the half, the Rebels opened it up in the third frame to lead by eight, 49-41.

Telstar received balanced scoring from David Berry (21), Ernie Waterhouse (18), and Geff Gaudreau (17). Defensive stand outs were Berry, who blocked many Pinto shots, Teddy Reed's rebounding and Phil Gauthier, who kept the offensive moving in the late minutes. Mexico's high scorers were Richard (15) and Knapp (13).

The win evened the Frosh up at 5 and 5.

M. D. O. T. TO OPEN BIDS ON WEST PARIS/SUMNER PROJECT ON JAN. 28

Bids will be opened by the Maine Department of Transportation Jan. 28, for a project in West Paris-Sumner.

The project is for the reconstruction of an 0.8-mile section of Route 219 located approximately three miles northeast of Trap Corner and the junction of Route 26.

A hazardous curve will be eliminated and grades improved for better visibility. A drainage problem will be corrected at Bog Brook and twin, seven-foot span pipe arches will carry the water under the new highway. At the west end of the project the intersection with a local road will be modernized for safe, easier turning movements.

TAXPAYERS SHOULD FOLLOW DIRECTIONS ON RETURNS

John E. O'Donnell, Acting District Director for Maine, today advised taxpayers not to deduct on their 1974 income tax returns the tax rebate proposed by the President on January 13, which has yet to be enacted by Congress. Returns should be prepared and filed according to the instructions that come with the tax forms and without regard to any rebate or similar plans now being proposed, he said.

Mr. O'Donnell explained that the plan proposed by the President calls for an automatic rebate based on a percentage of the taxpayer's tax liability for 1974. The amount of such a rebate can be determined by the IRS only after it receives and processes the taxpayers return filed in accordance with the instructions that come with the tax forms. Any rebate adjustment made by a taxpayer will only serve to delay processing and issuance of the rebate.

Emphasizing that possible rebates being considered have no bearing on any tax refunds already due taxpayers for 1974, Mr. O'Donnell said that persons expecting refunds have an added incentive to file early. Refunds can be issued to early filers within four or five weeks after a return is received by the IRS, while it may take up to eight weeks to issue refunds to those who file close to the April 15 deadline.

The IRS said that since the proposal under consideration may involve the payment of a rebate later in the year, taxpayers who move from the address shown on their income tax return should promptly file a change of address notice with the post office in the area from which they move.

Week in Oxford Co.

A power failure Tuesday morning affected some Oxford County communities. Fryeburg lost power for about one hour.

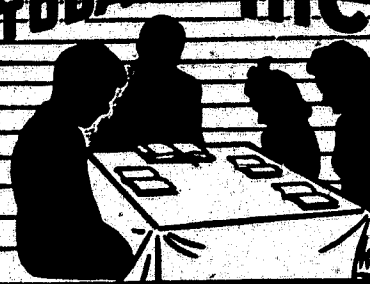

The Oxford County Office has been selected as the most outstanding county office in effective and efficient operation of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation in the state in 1974. Members of the committee receiving awards are: Charles A. Fillebrown, Committee Chairman; Marilyn L. Thurston, West Peru, Vice Chairman; Albert L. Graves, Fryeburg, Member; Andrea P. Wing, West Paris, Program Assistant; and Beverly T. Dean, West Paris, County Executive Director.

The Oxford Paper Company announced Friday that four paper machines at its Rumford mill would be shut down for a week. There was no estimate of the number of workers out of the 2,000 employed would be affected. Lack of orders was cited as the reason for closing.

The Maine Red Cross Bloodmobile was in Rumford recently. The Oxford Paper Company dispensary drew 79 units and the Legion Home drew 36 over their quota.

James Collins, guidance director at Mexico High School has been hired as a part time counselor for the SAD 43 adult education program.

Fire destroyed the home of Mrs. Abbie Norton on the East Dixfield Road early Wednesday morning, Jan. 15. Mrs. Norton and her late husband, Eugene Norton, had lived there about 25 years. The main house of brick was gutted badly but the garage and ell are still standing. The house contained many valuable furnishings and antiques. Mr. and Mrs. Norton were residents of Bethel over 30 years ago.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, January 23, 1975

Read 2 Corinthians 5:17-21

God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. (2 Corinthians 5:19)

An estranged couple and their lawyers were before the judge to receive his decision on the custody of their six-year old son. After much heated wrangling, the judge finally turned to the little lad, sitting so forlornly near his mother, "Which one of your parents do you wish to live with, my boy?" he asked kindly. All was silent and suddenly the youngster burst into tears. Then in broken tones, he sobbed: "I want—to live with both of them!"

The husband and wife looked at each other, their eyes filled with tears. Obviously, they had thought more of their own differences and desires than the lad's feelings. The husband had a hurried conference with his lawyer and wife. Then taking the child's hand, they went up to the judge and told him they had decided to become reconciled.

Christ came into the world to reconcile the world unto Himself. When persons form a new relationship with God, they will also form new and better relationships with family, employers and friends.

Prayer: O Lord, help us to bring peace to some heart this day. Amen.

Thought for the Day
Peace will come to the world as peace come to our homes.

30 Seconds WITH THE NAZARENE

Rev. Barbara Huse, Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene

We recall many happy hours spent in various social occasions associated with school, scouting, church and other organizations. One evening we were given plain white envelopes containing a number of letters and told to put them together in a given period to spell "Just one word". Many puzzled for some time, then came the dawn. They meant just what they said, so we put together the phrase, "Just one word." Sometimes people make the Christian life complicated by thinking of all the denominations, creeds, rules, problems. Oh yes, those too! How do we know who is right? Maybe there is nothing to it anyway. How do we really know? So they go through life leaving God out completely. We think of the story of another puzzle we heard about. The World was in bits and pieces but it was discovered that by placing the pieces together properly, on the other side was a beautiful head of Christ; some artist imagined him to appear. This tells us something if we use our thinking caps! In the Bible there are simple, clear directions. Often only one word—Come, Go, Why? Behold! The question why? is probably asked by more people and more often than any other. Even Jesus asked the question. You can find it in the Bible if you are interested to search for it there. You may also find some answers for yourself and your family! Not all, but some!

"Seek ye the Lord while He may be found. Call ye upon Him while He is near." Isaiah 55:6.

of Bethel, Greenwood, Newry and Woodstock.

Mr. Kinney reported that a power interruption at Telstar Regional High School in the early hours of Saturday, Jan. 18, had created conditions that caused damage to heating units, and water pumps, as well as water damage to ceiling tiles as pipes reportedly burst as a result of the sub-zero temperatures of the day.

It was the decision of the board to begin procedures necessary for seeking accreditation by the New England Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges in the 1977-78 school year.

The directors voted to accept a proposal of the trustees of the Eva Bean Revolving Fund, with regard to a more advantageous use of the assets available. The implementation of the proposal will provide: 1) Approximately $9,000 be invested in high interest certificate of deposit; 2) Approximately $1,000 be retained in a savings account to be used as an emergency loan fund, continuing the fund's basic purpose; 3) Trustees of the fund be empowered to annually vote to contribute all or part of annual interest accrued to the Dollars for Scholars Fund in the name of the Eva Bean Revolving Fund.

In accordance with past practice, the board placed Rodney Abbott and Felix Otero-Otero of the Telstar staff on the master's salary scale, as of Jan. 10, the date they received their advanced degrees.

Board members not present on Monday evening were: Andover, Phillip Morales; Bethel, Patricia Hudson, Clarence Remington, Margaret J. Tibbets; Woodstock, Parker Allen, Milton Mills.

There will be a special meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board in the Telstar Lecture Hall at 7:30 next Monday evening, Jan. 27. The Transportation Committee will meet in the Library at 7 o'clock that evening.

The next regular session of the board will be held at Telstar on Monday, Feb. 3. The Report of the Ad Hoc Committee for Educational Planning, S. A. D. 44, will be discussed.

Letters to the Editor

January 21, 1975

To the Editor:
A special thanks to the reader of the Citizen who raised the name of Mrs. Arlene Greenleaf Brown as a contributor to Bethel's musical past. Mrs. Brown is certainly entitled to be remembered along with scores of others when any kind of comprehensive history of Bethel is compiled. The articles on music in the Special Edition and the one read at a recent historical society meeting and published in the Citizen were not intended to be all-inclusive or exhaustively researched presentations. They were simply brief (made so by limits of space and time) surveys written by "natives" relying largely on personal recollections.

Anyone who can provide information or anecdotes concerning Bethel's musical history is encouraged to contact the Society. Any enlightenment is always welcome!

Stanley Howe

HENRY T. FINCK

Henry T. Finck was born in Hannibal, Missouri in 1854 and died in Bethel in 1926. He spent much of his early life in Oregon but ventured east to attend Harvard college. Upon his graduation in 1876 he spent several years studying abroad. In 1881 he returned to the United States and was offered the position of music critic for the New York Evening Post serving in that capacity for 43 years. During his lifetime he wrote some 17 books on such diverse topics as psychology, gardening and music in addition to an autobiography. He was attracted to the White Mountains while at Harvard and spent some time at Mrs. Locke's farm on Sunday River. Subsequently he bought the house, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clanton in Mayville where he continued to come for many summers.

BILL COHEN
From Congress

The State of the Union is not good. So the President of the United States has told us, in the blunt and candid style for which he is rightly admired.

Within the past week, Mr. Ford has sketched his personal program for confronting our nation's economic ills. In many respects, his remarks are encouraging. They reveal a deepened understanding of the serious crisis we confront and a willingness to craft bold remedial programs.

Moreover, Mr. Ford's sounds of alarm have awakened the American people—if any still needed awakening—to the gravity of the situation we face. A national consensus has emerged favoring strong action. And in these developments we can take hope.

Still, despite the consensus that action is needed, we remain in a most difficult period. Although nearly everyone agrees with the goals President Ford has articulated—energy self-sufficiency, a reduction in oil consumption, decreased inflation, and an increase in the purchasing power of lower income Americans—there is legitimate disagreement about how best to achieve those ends.

President Ford has given us essentially a three-part program. He has proposed a series of tax cuts and rebates to restore purchasing power to the average consumer. He has called for increased taxes to raise the price of oil and thereby discourage consumption of that precious commodity. And he has asked a moratorium on new spending programs in an effort to rein in deficits in the Federal budget.

The President's tax cut proposals are most welcome. They should put added purchasing power into the hands of most Americans, and, with some needed adjustments in the proposed schedule, give desperately needed relief to low and middle income citizens.

The proposed increase in the investment tax credit is also welcome, since it will encourage businesses to expand their productive and employment capacities and should give an immediate boost to employment in the capital goods industry.

I think it is unfortunate, however, that the President has chosen to weaken the effect of the tax cuts by slapping a stiff tariff on imported oil—a tax that could have a particularly devastating effect on the economy of Maine and New England, since we rely on imported petroleum to supply roughly 90 percent of our energy needs.

While I see the President's proposed tax cut as an effective recession fighting tool, by coupling the cut with the oil tariff the Federal government will be giving with the one hand and taking with the other. The average taxpayer may realize a $150 tax rebate, but I can easily see him paying more than $150 in increased costs caused by the added tax.

Still another problem is that, if the oil tariff goes into effect, it will raise the cost of almost everything else. Rising oil costs will spur broadly based inflation, act as a drag on the industries that we should be trying to stimulate, and drain away much of the new purchasing power that the tax cut is designed to provide.

I have similar reservations about an absolute moratorium on new spending programs. While everyone would agree that we should attempt to check unnecessary new programs, some may be needed merely to help people survive the hardships of a deepening recession. And, with regard to proposed curbs on Social Security cost-of-living increases, I believe that our elderly will need every possible penny if they are to meet the rising heat and electrical bills we can expect in the months ahead.

In short, while I think that the President's program offers a good starting point for national debate and discussion, adjustments and compromise must be worked out before it can or should gain Congressional approval.

I only hope that Congress will approach Mr. Ford's program in a statesmanlike and nonpartisan way in the weeks ahead.

LOCKE MILLS' FIRST LOUNGES
OPENED LAST WEEK END

Despite the heavy snow fall and undesirable road conditions the grand opening of Locke Mills first cocktail lounge, at the Mount Abram Ski resort was well received. The popular ski resort owned by the Cross Brothers became the first establishment serving the public in Locke Mills to apply for and receive a liquor license as a result of the November elections, which changed the law.

The new two story expansion which has been added to the present Lodge will accommodate approximately 200 people. The first floor level of the new expansion serves as a dining area, and a lounge and bar occupy the second story of the new facility.

The highlight of the evening was the entertainment in the form of Amateur night with several entertainers and a rock group providing the entertainment. Amateurs performing for the commemorative occasion were Liz and Kathy Fox, who sang several songs, and Diane and Lani Cross who wrote and sang a special song in honor of the Cross Brothers. Mrs. Hazel Wilds accompanied by her sister, Helen Cummings, also sang a special song which they wrote to commemorate the occasion, followed by Mrs. Wilds' famous rendition of Swiss yodeling. A local rock group under the direction of Gary "Butch" Fuller, was well received, as well as the performance of Frank McGuire.

The new facility at the popular ski resort will be open to serve the public on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Entertainment and dancing are also being planned, and the lounge and dining area will be open to serve the public the year round.

Jordan's Restaurant, a local restaurant, has also been granted a liquor license enabling their establishment to serve the public and officially opened their lounge on Sunday. The restaurant, a landmark in Locke Mills, has been under the present management for the past 22 years and has gained wide popularity for their excellent menu.

On the Job

WITH EMILY — Jan. 14-17

The predominant theme of Rep. Emily Saunders' third week in Augusta were the definition of the relationship between the federal government and government at the state level, and energy. On January 14, and again the next day, Joint Resolutions Memorizing the President and the Maine Congressional Delegation were sent to the capital by the Maine Senate and House. The first resolution concerned a change in the Food Stamp program proposed by the Dept. of Agriculture, whereby, as of March 1, the price of food stamps would be a flat 30% of the net income of the recipient, in effect raising the cost of stamps for 95% of Maine recipients, and making some now getting stamps ineligible. The resolution requested that the proposed change be reconsidered and withdrawn. In dealing with a federally funded program such as food stamps, such petitions are all the governing bodies in Maine can do; other than encouraging citizens to write to officials in Washington.

On the following day, Jan. 15, a similar resolution was sent to Washington regarding the increased tax on oil proposed by President Ford to discourage consumption. Such a tax presents a special problem for Maine and the other New England states because of the region's heavy dependence on imported oil as a source of energy, combined with the state of the economy. Thus the legislators petitioned the Congress and the Maine Congressional delegation to oppose the tax increase and all oil price increases, and to seek ways of conservation which are non-discriminatory.

The focus on Maine's energy problems was continued when Robert Monks conducted an energy session for the legislators and presented the "Interim Energy Policy and Comprehensive Energy Plan for the State of Maine," compiled for the legislature at the request of former Governor Curtis by the Office of Energy Resources which Monks heads. Monks emphasized that despite the limits placed on the state, in coping with energy problems, by federal regulations and national and international business interests; inflation, price and availability of oil, off-shore leases, etc., Maine's government can and must act to encourage conservation habits among Maine's people and industries, and to maximize the utilization of the state's own resources, forests, wind, sea weed, water and tidal power. He stressed that technology does exist to produce energy competitively from some of these sources, and in the report, suggests that an Energy Research Institute be set up within the U. of M. framework, initially with already designated funds, to pursue the uses of renewable natural resources. The state would then actively participate in alternative energy projects; in obtaining funding, setting up pilot projects. The proposed Maine Woods Fuel Corporation—a COMSAT-type arrangement between private and public interests—would develop the use of methanol, or wood alcohol, because, "the desirability of having control within the state of all the elements of cost of a fuel with the versatility to power cars, heat homes, and drive turbines need only be suggested, particularly at a time when the direct public ownership of large acreage is just now being consolidated into large and usable tracts." In the event that the state cannot devise means to meet its own energy needs, regional cooperation with the northeastern states and the Eastern Provinces of Canada should be developed.

Some specific suggestions contained in the report are tax credits for the efficient use of energy and increased taxes for waste of same, as well as state guaranteed loans for energy-related home improvements. In addition, materials used in energy conservation should be exempted from sales tax, an incentive technique used in pollution control. The Office of Energy Resources recommends a repeal of the sales tax on the residential use of electricity in view of the double tax levied on the consumer, occurring when the utilities pass on their increased taxes on fuel in their rates and the consumer then pays sales tax on the total cost of electricity. However, the report recommends only the most efficient use of electricity as a heating method.

The report discusses nuclear power plants as a part of Maine's energy picture, pointing out the questions still remaining to be answered regarding disposal of radioactive wastes and the Emergency Core Cooling System, to be tested in 1977. Recommendations are made as to the location of major energy plants and the related siting of heavy industry, and the establishment of the Maine Energy and Heavy Industry Siting Authority is suggested. The state has no control over oil leases on the outer continental shelf but if oil is found the State must be prepared to cope with related developments in a comprehensive manner. The report speaks of the "real energy crisis" as the inability of many Maine people to meet the costs of energy necessary to sustain a reasonable standard of living, and directs the state to work with the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare to provide cash supplements for energy expenses for needy families. As the report is only advisory, all its suggestions now await action by the Legislature, the Governor, and various departments and agencies.

Emily's other activities during the week included a meeting with the Oxford County delegation to review the county budget. The delegation will meet with the County Commissioners, Norman Ferguson Jr., Leo MacDonald and Stuart Martin, to discuss changes—mostly cuts—they made. The Maine Potato Queen, presented to the House by the Aroostook delegation, made a short speech in French. One of Emily's committees, Human Resources, is involved in a problem over the inclusion of representatives from the Indian tribes in Maine in workings of the Legislature. Attorney General Joe Frennan has advised the Human Resources Committee that he sees no reason why the Indians cannot be included on the committee in a non-voting capacity. Non-smokers will be happy to learn that the House has outlawed smoking during sessions, "in the interests of health, comfort and safety of those in this chamber, and to set an example for the youth of this state who frequent our gallery."

INTERNAL REVENUE URGES PROMPT TAX RETURN FILING

Taxpayers can help speed up any refund due by filing their tax returns now and by using the pre-addressed label and envelope that came with their tax packages, the Internal Revenue Service said recently.

Taxpayers can expect their refunds in four to five weeks by filing now, but those who wait until the last minute could face a fund delay of up to eight weeks.

John E. O'Donnell, Acting District Director of Internal Revenue for Maine, explained that the Andover Service Center can process returns faster if they arrive with the labels affixed and in envelopes provided by the IRS.

"Because this envelope is coded to accommodate special sorting equipment," Mr. O'Donnell said, "we can handle the return much faster and get the refund out that much sooner."

Another advantage to using the envelope in the tax package, according to the IRS spokesman, is that it precludes an address mistake that the taxpayer could make if he had to prepare his own envelope.

"The IRS envelope is just the right size for the tax return, W-2 forms, and supporting documents and schedules," Mr. O'Donnell said. "If a taxpayer tries to cram all of this into a tiny letter-sized envelope," he added, "there is a good chance that the contents may be torn in processing, which could further delay a refund."

Mr. O'Donnell pointed out that the envelope in the tax package is coded by the type of return to be filed—1040 or 1040A—and by the servicing IRS district office.

"If the return can bypass two manual sorting procedures, then obviously the processing is faster and the refund is issued that much sooner."

The chief advantage to the label that came with the tax package, according to Mr. O'Donnell, is

VETERANS TO HAVE NEW RE-EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS

Veterans who leave employment with a state or local government in order to complete military service, now have new re-employment rights under federal law effective 3 December 1975, according to Robert R. Washburn, Director of the State of Maine Bureau of Veterans Services. Washburn said the State reemployment rights law, formerly administered by the State Department of Personnel was superseded by the new federal law.

The law requires newly discharged, separated, veterans who left other than temporary employment, to be reinstated in their old jobs with the same pay, status, and seniority they would have achieved except for their military service. The new law covers jobs in State, County, and Local Government, including school districts. Veterans returning to private employment were already covered by federal law.

Reemployment rights for all Maine draftees, enlistees, Reservists, and National Guardsmen are now enforced by the Labor Management Services Administration of the U. S. Department of Labor from the Boston office at 110 Tremont Street.

that the taxpayer's name, address, and social security number are already printed. The possibility of making an error is remote.

"In using the label, first check that the information on it is correct," Mr. O'Donnell advised. "If there is an error—for example, you may have moved—simply make the correction right on the label. Then transfer the label from your tax package to the front of the 1040 or 1040A—it's that simple."

What a beautiful Tuesday morning. Temperatures were minus 24; bushes all frost and heavy steam or frost rising from the brook. The smoke from the chimneys shows us who have the fires stoked. No school buses. Very few cars are traveling. Maybe froze up.

Lloyd Huntley came home Sunday after spending a week in Florida. What a change he found.

Mildred Hazelton, Connie Davis and Elmon Seavey were in Lewiston Wednesday for car registration.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Yeaton's children spent the week end with them, except Elwood Jr. who had cold.

John O'Hearon was busy with his plow Saturday afternoon and evening. The town plows and sanding trucks worked all night Saturday and Sunday morning. Skidooes galore enjoying the new snow.

Joe Barrett has been having the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stevens, Betty, were at Dixfield Sunday.

Jeffrey and James Coffin were at the Lawrence's Saturday.

Mrs. Richard Summers called on Eveline Barrett Saturday afternoon, also Doris Doris Lawrence called and brought a large bowl of blackberries, picked at "Big Rock" when the weather was scorching and were they good, seeds and all.

This kind of weather is hard on the oil barrels.

Bethel Head Start

Last Thursday we enjoyed our last meal for a month with Louise Robiller. After dishing out delicious meat loaf, potatoes, gravy, corn, and salad, our good friends Joe and Louise and of course, Christian, left for Florida for a visit with friends and relatives. Our director, Charlene Lever, visiting the Center for the day also got to enjoy the good ole home cookin'.

Monday evening, Mary Tyler, gave a "surprise parent meeting". Those attending were Yvonne and Bill Robinson, Carol and Irving York, Leroy Patten, Edleen Fraser, Scott Billings, Candy Howard, Gennice Cole and Mary Tyler. The surprise turned out to be a housewares party which enabled the parents to get a set of dishes on which they plan to accept donations and award at a future date.

Parent involvement was discussed and it was decided to go bowling and also to have a toboggan party for recreation for the parents.

A trip to Dr. Lebel was cancelled on Tuesday as Louise's car refused to "warm up to the weather". But, the children did get a treat on Tuesday and quite a one at that! We had a visit from eight very talented youngsters and their teacher — Carolyn Chase, Cheryl Moody, Mike Moody, Nancy Buswell, Ronnie Garey, Ricky Buswell, Wayne Hill and Donald Bretton, along with Special Education teacher, Mr. Triestman, from Crescent Park came to read and sing. Carolyn Chase and Cheryl Moody read two fun story books to us which we enjoyed very much. The entire group of eight also sang "Sloop John B", "Country Roads", and the Beatles new song "Here Comes the Sun". A fantastic job by all. We enjoyed the visit very much and are looking forward to seeing them again next week.

On Wednesday, the children were taken to Charlie's Place for lunch. Everyone loves pizza! Many thanks, Charlie!

Our "Star of the Week", Scott Fraser has told us his favorites are—toy trucks, the color red, peas and his cat, Puff. See you all soon.

DEN 3

We have six boys in our Den: Charlie Cousins, Dale Korhonen, Steven Snyder, Andy Wheeler, Scott Kennagh, and William Rice. We meet at Mrs. Rice's on Thursdays after school. Mrs. Kennagh helps Mrs. Rice with the meetings. Last week we made pin-hole planetariums and Steve made a space monster. We also learn how to fold a flag, too, and are learning some Scouting Songs. Charlie is bringing refreshments this week. — Den Scribe, William Rice.
